

Key Note Speaker

Francesca Amenduni

Swiss Federal University for Vocational Education and Training (SFUVET, Switzerland)

Dr. Francesca Amenduni has a Ph.D in Experimental Education a master's degree in industrial psychology.

From November 2021, she is Senior Researcher and Senior Project manager at Swiss Federal University for Vocational Education and Training (SFUVET, Switzerland).

At SFUVET she works in the research field about educational technologies in VET and in the department of VET teachers continuing training. She has been involved in STILLearning Project which concerns training practices in disruptive industries at European Level. Moreover, she has been collaborating with the International Labor Organization within the context of the Apprenticeships Development for Universal Lifelong Learning and Training (ADULT) project.