

Technical notes on the use of the “GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz”

1. The „Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit" (hereinafter referred to as "GIZ") provides a web-based e-procurement and tender solution, hereinafter referred to as "GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz". On the GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz, procurement procedures can be processed digitally and in compliance with applicable law.
2. Users of the GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz are applicants or bidders who seek information about or intend to participate in procurement procedures published on the GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz.
3. The technical implementation of this processing is carried out by the service providers cosinex GmbH and DtVP GmbH, providing the technical infrastructure and software required for participation in a procurement procedure. Interested parties wishing to participate in a procedure for the first time must therefore, for technical reasons, first register with <https://en.dtvp.de/> to be able to subsequently use the GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz. This registration and the following use are free of charge. Please select the "Basic-Edition" of DtVP GmbH. For further information please click here.
4. The GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz informs about procurement procedures as well as planned procurements and awarded contracts. Users may participate in a published procurement procedure in accordance with the applicable GTC, following the technical and organizational requirements for the use of the GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz by electronic means.
5. The technical and organizational requirements necessary for participation in the electronic procurement procedure can be found, together with other important information, at <https://support.cosinex.de>. Users are obliged to inform themselves as regularly as possible about any changes to the technical and organizational requirements for using the GIZ-Vergabemarktplatz.

August 2023