

FUTURE FORUM
2021

Welcome!

States, Societies & People in the Digital Age –
Shaping a Global Transformation

September 20 – 23, 2021

What is the Future Forum?

The Future Forum launched by GIZ (Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit GmbH) is a new digital format that stands for capacity development, collaboration and co-creation! It combines internal capacity development for GIZ staff with exchange and inspiration with many external stakeholders.

The Future Forum 2021 focuses on the transformative impact of the digital transformation in the context of governance and peacebuilding.

From September 20 – 23, this virtual event brings together experts from all over the world working at and with GIZ as well as interested commissioning parties, technical cooperation partners, related organizations and consultancies.

What is the objective of the Future Forum 2021?

- >> The Future Forum 2021 promotes learning and innovation among GIZ staff worldwide working for sector portfolios in the field of governance and conflict. The Future Forum is a driver for innovation and new methodologies and offers both an opportunity to learn as well as to present individual experiences and approaches.
- >> The Future Forum 2021 contributes to the digital transformation at company level and unlocks trendsetting topics for GIZ.
- >> In times of distanced working due to the current global pandemic, the Future Forum 2021 (re)connects the community and offers various platforms for exchange and networking.

Your Future Forum Journey!

Planets

4 Thematic Focus Areas

Open to pre-registered GIZ colleagues

Focus Area 1: (Digital) Power to Perform - Changing Capacities of State and Non-State Actors

>>>>> Open to pre-registered GIZ colleagues

Tuesday, September 21

12:30 - 02:00 PM	(Digital) Governance: from bad to good to better? Guests will share their experience in digitalizing public administration, focusing on the challenges, preconditions and success factors for successful digitalization and the way new technological trends change the structures, processes and approaches inside public institutions
03:00 - 04:30 PM	Digitalization for integrity - opportunities and challenges for the fight against corruption The session explores how the digital transformation can be harnessed to fight corruption and strengthen integrity at the level of governments, civil society, private sector and individuals.

Wednesday, September 22

12:30 - 02:00 PM	Human centric digital public infrastructure - advancing global digital cooperation to strengthen capacities for digital transformation of government services The session will focus on how global digital cooperation and joint efforts to advance the development, management and implementation of digital public goods can create a more equitable world and contribute to achieving the SDGs.
03:00 - 04:30 PM	Digital capacities - quo digitalis GIZ? The session is a synthesis of the previous parts of this focus area. Here, colleagues reflect on the capacities and competencies GIZ has and needs to strengthen state and non-state actors' capacities for digital transformation and discuss critically how far digitalization supports the objectives of international development cooperation.

Focus Area 2: Social Cohesion and Peacebuilding in the Digital Era

>>>>> Open to pre-registered GIZ colleagues

Tuesday, September 21

12:30 - 02:00 PM

Warning! You are entering unknown digital territories - new tech as a context factor

How does digitalization change the fragile and conflict-affected contexts/ecosystems in which we work? And what do you need to know in order to properly analyze the role that digitalization plays in a partner country's social cohesion and peace?

03:00 - 04:30 PM

Let's uncover: Decoding technology for fostering social cohesion and peace

How does digital technology shape our behavior? And how can we tap into the positive potential for change in order to make it part of our strategies to transform conflict, build peace and cohesive societies?

Wednesday, September 22

12:30 - 02:00 PM

Access denied!? Digital dimensions of agency in peacebuilding

Is digitalization the missing piece to make conflict transformation and peacebuilding processes more inclusive? And how can digital technologies offer a possibility for normal citizens to become "designers/creators" of these processes, rather than beneficiaries?

03:00 - 04:30 PM

Future-gazing: Plug in! Tech-visions for peace and social cohesion

Is the future of peacebuilding and fostering social cohesion digital? What technologies are in the pipeline that could make a major change in reducing violent conflict? And how can we as GIZ experts develop our own capacities in order to advise our partners?

Focus Area 3: Mind the Gap: Inclusive Digital Democracy and Deliberation

>>>>> Open to pre-registered GIZ colleagues

Tuesday, September 21

12:30 - 01:15 PM	Inclusive digital democracy - the starting point Setting the frame of Inclusive Digital Democracy by unpacking assumptions and inviting participants to question and challenge their own opinions and beliefs.
01:15 - 02:15 PM	'Beyond Algorithms and Polarization - Some Lessons on Public Opinion Forming in the Digital Age' Dialogue on how narratives are shaped through digital exchange mechanisms. What are the patterns, actors, risks and implications? And how to provide new grounds for informed and inclusive democratic debates beyond polarization?
03:00 - 04:30 PM	Increasing meaningful public participation in the digital age Meaningful public participation in practice - potentials, successes, failures and incentives to enable public participation

Wednesday, September 22

12:30 - 02:00 PM	No smartphone, no voice? How to not leave people behind Moving from WHY to the question of HOW to not leave people behind; highlighting different dimensions of digital inclusion using practical examples; emphasizing relevance of human-centered design (HCD) to implement LNOB	GIZ Diversity Week: This event is open to all GIZ colleagues.
03:00 - 04:00 PM	The power(lessness) of digital accountability Presentation of case studies giving insight into examples of accountability platforms from different regions, and the necessary conditions for accountability tech to succeed
04:00 - 04:30 PM	You have reached your destination! Presentation of recommendations on consolidating GIZ work with digital inclusion

Focus Area 4: Data for Development

>>>>> Open to pre-registered GIZ colleagues

Tuesday, September 21

12:30 - 02:00 PM	Data and the city - data policy cycles in cities Methods of spatial observation and of collecting local data by citizens are becoming cheaper and more precise. In theory, the collected and processed data supports the coordination between sectoral departments of the city administration and negotiation processes with the construction industry and citizens. How does this work practically on the ground? What technologies are used?
03:00 - 04:30 PM	Gender data gaps - how to make women visible As COVID has once again shown, data plays a key role in shedding light on the experiences of women and girls, for advocacy and policy-making purposes. Yet, gender data gaps occur on many levels; e. g. data is rarely disaggregated by sex or ignores topics that primarily affect women (e. g. Gender Based Violence). On the other hand, in some contexts, collecting data may harm women, while reliance on digital data and technology may actually increase gender gaps.

12:30 - 02:00 PM	Towards data driven public services The focus of the session will be on two leading questions: (1) What should a public data architecture look like to enable a data-driven public administration? (2) Which tools and capacities enable public administrations to implement data-driven decision-making processes?
03:00 - 04:30 PM	Data in fragile contexts - experimenting with new approaches to support data-based decision making While appreciating the challenges of producing and using data in fragile and conflict affected contexts, this session will highlight and discuss approaches for collecting data in these difficult environments and showcase how the results are used to make evidence-based decisions. Key questions are: how can we collect reliable data in fragile and conflict affected contexts? How can data be used for evidence-based decisions in fragile and conflict affected contexts?
